

November 05, 2025: On Moving Into my Home and Becoming Intimate with my Family

Donald Trump and Elon Musk:

Since your little spying operation has obviously 'set up shop' inside of my home to learn every single little detail about my thoughts and actions - so that you can help me?

No! So that you can sabotage me and cause me harm -

I will let you know clearly what I think - publicly - for everyone to see. . .

I honestly believe that you all are the dregs of society.

I honestly believe that the lowest and most worthless losers on the planet have been lifted into positions of power that are so far above and beyond their ability to handle or properly maintain that we are in serious danger as a community, a country, and as a world.

I honestly believe that two men - like yourselves - can completely destroy thousands of years of human progress in a single lifetime - and

I honestly believe that you succeeded in that exact accomplishment.

Congratulations Donald Trump!
Congratulations Elon Musk!

You are, indeed, two of a kind working on a full house of fucking losers.

You ruined our present - just like Biff in Back to the Future II.

It's true. We hate you both.

Congratulations on your 'successful' achievement of becoming 'super-villains' of the world. Now, accept the hatred that you both so well deserve.

(Would you mind accepting it in your own home though? I don't need you little vehicle show anymore - I know that ya'll are spying on my life. You can keep your opinions and attempts at intimidation to your own families - we are trying to live a life of peace here in this house.)
